

PROLOGUE - TUTORIAL

“Betrayal is the only truth that sticks” Arthur Miller.

Arthur Miller was an American Essayist who is a prominent figure in both Literature and Cinema for 61 years of his life. I never knew him, nor ever saw him anywhere in my life, but my mom used to read and watch all his works. I was never a fan of fiction, because for me it is just a way to escape reality. I live in the present and in reality, so I was living my life to the fullest outside with many friends inside and outside my school. But my mom was different and she sees the world differently than mine. Even so, I still loved my mother. Because she is being herself, and I love her for it. She shares her vision to me, enlightening me, and in return I show her the world outside fiction. We were living a lavish life, until a sudden bolt of lightning struck our house like it was a judgement from above. I saw my mom crying, frantically calling for help.

- “That’s how I died... is what you’re trying to say?” asked by Licht.
- “Yep!” coming from an unknown woman who proclaims herself as a Goddess of Life.
- “Why do you even have to tell it to me in a way like you’re narrating a story... It hurts like hell when the washing machine falls onto me.”
- “Because you will be entering a world you once thought was fiction. I wanted to play a bit with the story of your life and make it sound like a drama fiction written in a book. It sounds novel, I’d say!”
- “Entering a world I thought was fiction...? What do you mean by that?”
- “The world is in dire need of your help, Licht Miller. Help them with all your might, and you will be granted to live a joyful life with your mother. Right now, in this space and time. Everything is moving at my own will, even the world you lived in once. But now, I stopped it just for you. Because deep in your heart, I know you wanted to give your mother a lavish life after your father, Arthur Miller left you and her.”

She did not dare to explain anything to me, but rather just pass the information and talent I needed to prevail in this world. To defeat the First King of Helheim - Satan.

34 Years Had Passed... The Hero Party led by Licht The Hero defeated the First King of Helheim - Satan and earned freedom for the whole world. But unexpected things happened. The Royal Family and Messengers of Gods have decided to execute their one and only blessing from heaven...

- “And the “Ceremony to bestow a gift from the whole world for Hero Licht” was actually a plan to execute you and seal your powers because these dumb officials thought the power balance would collapse, in fighting strength and in politics also? And your party members, namely Vibarian [The Strongest Bruiser], Carlossus [Unyielding Guardian], Ambrosia [Saintess of Humanity], and Theonnix [The White Death] had partake in this betrayal and extracted your powers?” Confusely asked by a middle-aged woman mechanical worker.

- “Yes.” Annoyingly confirmed by Licht The Hero
- “So what’s your plan now? Now that you’ve escaped this execution but all your limbs are... amputated, to say the least. Well, of course I am going to make mechanical limbs for you but after that, what do you want to do?”
- “I’m going to take everything they stole from me. That’s all there is to it.”
- “I see. I am [Merlin Ironwright]. Nice to work for you, [Licht the Hero].”

– Tutorial Begins –

1. Combat Style: Pokemon Turn-Based
2. Inventory, Limbs, and Item Crafting/Upgrade
3. Player Stats Explanation (SOME STATS, YOU CAN)
 - a. Strength is 100% but flat numbers are from limbs. Licht cannot exert his full potential because if he did, the mechanical limbs will be destroyed.
 - b. Same goes to Mana. It is always 100% but too much Mana density will melt the mechanical limbs.
 - c. Intelligence enhances Magic. The higher the Intelligence, the more Licht can exert the magic’s full potential. Intelligence is always flat number
 - d. Reputation is a string stat that dictates how people will see you. This affects the storyline.
 - e. Sanity is how well the hero’s mind can control himself out of anger from betrayal. Sanity will always be fixed at 50% every time he encounters someone from his old party due to the fact that he is mad at them. It can increase back to 80% but would never be able to reach 100% Sanity. Sanity can also affect the ‘Hit and Miss’ from attacks. If Licht’s sanity is low, he can’t think straight and will just attack and attack even if he cannot hit. Sanity can be regained by hitting criticals which will be calculated based on 25% of its damage.

NOTE: The player can choose if he will sacrifice his mechanical gear by exerting Licht’s true power. Hence, the separation of stats [Mech Limbs] and [Licht’s True Stats] is needed. It also makes sense because Licht is not gaining strength, but is trying to get back to his true powers. He once defeated the demon lord. He is already strong before the gameplay even started.

It took 4 whole years to make limbs that are suitable for my overall capability as someone who houses large amounts of Mana and Strength. Merlin Ironwright, who is one of the leaders of Hero's Fanatic or whatever this organization is called, who is dedicated to me, saw me lying in a river after the Military of another country invaded where I was sealed.

A large ray of light appeared where I was sealed, and it was visible and heard by the whole world. I was unconscious at the time but I still remember the Goddess indirectly opening my eyes, glancing at me with pitiful looks. She said something but I wasn't able to hear it. All I know is that the Goddess gave me another chance to settle the score with those who wronged me. Who wronged Heaven's Blessing.

ACT 1 - MAIN QUEST

Helheim's Sanctuary.

4 Years have passed. I learned that the whole world's in another disaster the time I failed to be executed but just sealed. Humanity's biggest flaw is that they're so prideful that they are willing to commit mass murder around the globe. What I mean is that, there is a war going on between 4 Countries. It's like 2v2 between Alfheim (Where I was summoned) and Lysandria vs Varkrath and Dravenmoon.

Lysandria country is notable for being experts at sea, due to the fact that they live on and in the sea, and they are also sea creatures as well who gained intelligence and became similarly looking like humans. Apparently, Lysandria chose to be allied with Alfheim Country because Dravenmoon is using mythical sea creatures who are dormant for centuries just to win the war.

Next is Varkrath, who thinks that Alfheim's pride and ego are causing problems all over the world when it's just because of the Heroes Party that they are now revered as the Blessed Kingdom. And lastly, Dravenmoon. A country who held the deepest grudge to Alfheim. I do not remember the full details why, but it was during the fight between Helheim's army and Humanity's Alliance Army. There are times where ruthless corrupt politicians run over people's towns and villages. These people became one and made a country and is now bestowed the title as 3rd Strongest Army worldwide due to their numbers and expertise with various Martial Arts and Magic Spells.

While I learned all of this, I also learned how to control my mechanical limbs. According to Merlin Ironwright, the one who invented mechanical limbs that can be controlled using Mana through wired nerves wrapped to the arm. The mechanical arm will always suck out enough mana to move it, but you can still insert more mana so the damage output will be far stronger, just like how my old body used to be.

- You're really going with me?
- Of course, the organization which is built inspired by you is indebted to you. We are always going to be here whenever you're in your worst.
- Suit yourself, but this journey is gonna be rough. We're fighting the former Hero Party Members.

—WORLD MAP EXPLANATION—

- All these years of being sealed, I am pretty sure you do not have a licensed id with you.
- Will it be hard to get one myself legally?
- Yes. It's been 7 years since they implemented this law that no one may enter towns, cities, and kingdom without one.
- What am I supposed to do then?
- We can legally get you one licensed id, for adventurers.
- Taking an adventurer exam then. But they will know who I am.
- Actually, we already took care of your information, changed your name, and also your age on paper. So now, your name is [Insert Player's name] who is 18 years old and is legal enough to join a guild. Our organization is pretty well-received so you are given a special opportunity to take the test immediately.
- All that is left is to take this exam huh. It will be easy. If I remember correctly, the closest city we have here is [Eins City]. Pretty sure there is a guild there, but I do not remember the direction. Fetch me the map.

—WORLD MAP EXPLANATION: END—

- Ah! Good afternoon Merlin Ironwright.
- Good afternoon Sherry
- Is this the person you wish to participate in an exam with right away?
- Ah, yes. Will he be able to take the exam right away?
- Yes! Actually, Grandmaster is already waiting for your arrival early this morning. He wanted to measure something, he says.
- I see. Thanks, Sherry. We'll go now.
- Goodbye! And Good luck, aspiring adventurer!
- Ever since we entered this city, nobody really recognizes me huh.
- That's because of somebody's ability to change your appearance to other people. Though, with just your actual appearance, I don't think anybody will recognize you.
- Unless it's a person with a keen eye for mana flow. Welcome back, Hero Licht.
- Oser!?
- You're still the same as ever, friend.

Oser was a great friend of mine. I can even call him my best friend. Afterall, he's also summoned to this world. Just not with a purpose of defeating Satan, but rather, stopping the world from ending. He's been here since mythical times. After some chatting, I then proceed to take the exam. But it is not an ordinary exam anyone would expect.

- For this exam, [Player's name]. I have decided to partake into this as your obstacle. I have heard your condition so do not worry, I will go easy on you. The exam is simple: we will just fight it out. I will measure your power if you can partake into this agenda (revenge) of yours.
- Very well.

—EXAM BEGINS—

Oser is from another planet similar to Earth. He was offered by the goddess to return to his world but he refused, due to the fact that he was an old guy there anyways. So he lived here long enough to meet me. He does not age but technically, he is 780 years old.

(HINT BEFORE A BATTLE BEGINS)

Oser is an Ice Mage who is considered an Doom Threat, leagues above me. Legends said that he has the ability to block out projectiles automatically and is completely immune to fire, so it's out of question to counter him with fire even though he is mainly an Ice mage. Although, pretty sure he told me that he is more of a water mage that is just advanced enough to create Ice. While others are born with Ice magic, he is different.

—EXAM ENDS—

- As expected, Licht. Even though you... lack limbs, you are still as strong as I first met you.
- I don't feel that was the case, honestly. I felt much weaker and relies too much on these mechanical limbs.
- It can't be helped, it already happened. Again, I've already learned everything from Merlin Ironwright. You're gonna take everything back from them. It's going to be hard so I will give you something you'd want to have.

(ARTIFACT GIVEN)

<Manalith> 3 Star artifact

Description: Capable to store 2 months worth of mana. This time measurement is compared to density of mana consumption from B rank adventurers.

- Is it really fine to have this rare artifact?
- Think of it as a gratitude for saving my mother of this world. Even if I am strong enough to protect a whole country, I won't be able to protect all of them if they are far away from me.
- I guess we're even now. Still, thank you.
- You're more than welcome. Show this [Exam Analysis Paper] to Sherry and she'll give you your pass as an adventurer.

.....

- Judging by the time you entered the venue for examination and the time you finished, I am guessing everything went smoothly?
- You can say that, here's the paper.

[Sherry is reading the paper...]

- ... B RANK ALREADY?? Wait... there's no way! Even if he's a skilled person, a B rank right after the exam is just...
- Not right? Yes, we abide by rules but I am the owner of this guild. I can always make an exception if I think they deserve it.

After getting the Adventurer's pass, we rested and ate inside the adventurer's guild for half an hour. During this time, Sherry was still shocked by what she read. So are the adventurers who overheard it.

—SIDE QUESTS—

—SIDE QUESTS END—

Merlin Ironwright wanted me to get used to these mechanical limbs before going through my journey. I admit, even with years of experience, there are still some things I needed to get used to and also learn. Although I've learned almost everything about this, I too wanted to master how much mana I should give for these mech limbs.

- Without a doubt, you are more than fine to embark with these limbs. But don't worry, I will be improving the design of this so you can exert your full strength.
- Next destination is 'Helheim's Sanctuary' huh.
- There is always an annual tournament fight for martial artists always, and we can get there in less than 2 days.
- That's great and all, but for sure you've considered the time and date of registration right? We'll be able to get there on time?

- The registration lasts for about 6 days from now so yes we will. The remaining days, we will investigate Vibarian's agenda these past 2 years.
- I'm guessing your henchmen made it possible to have that kind of information?
- Like always.

I've always known Vibarian as a person who always wanted to be at a top. Even when we were in a party, he always wanted to spar with anyone, improving his every sense, fighting style, and intelligence in both fighting and general things. That was his reason for his greed. A greed that even took what belongs to me.

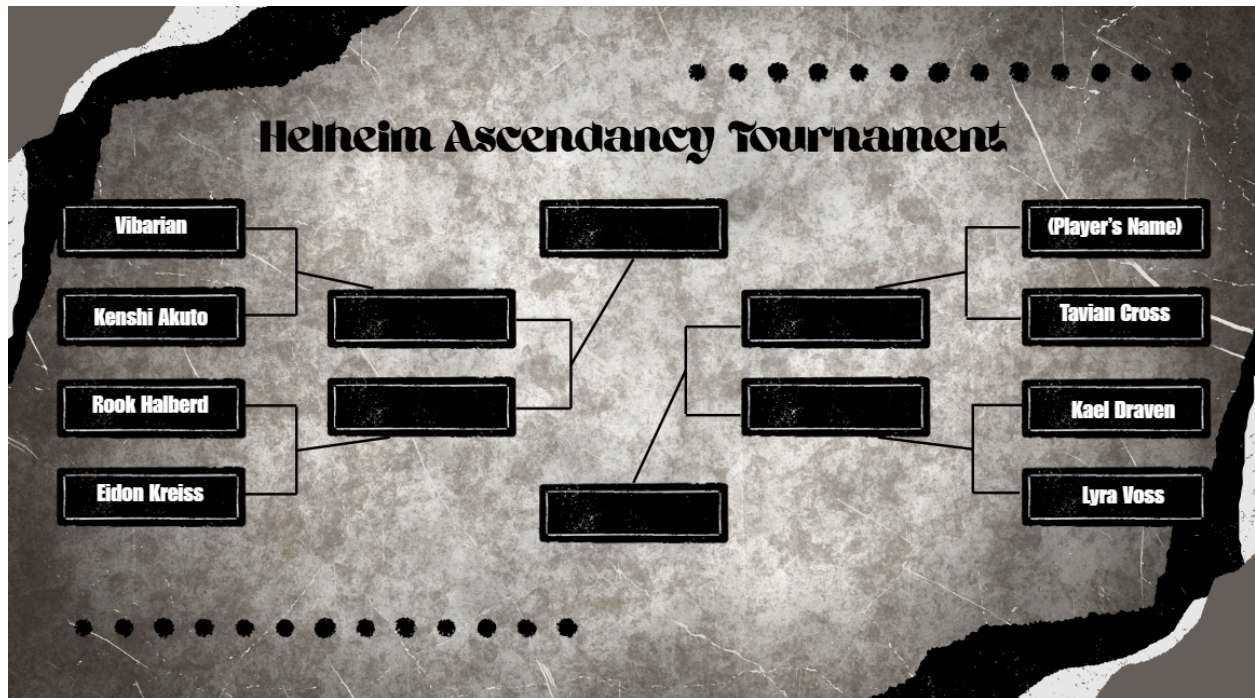

- "Accidentally" killing innocent bystanders as a reason for them "getting in his way" to defeat an enemy, kidnapping women, suspected of being a slave-lord, and selling drugs, and lastly but surely, stealing your power. Even with all these records, they cannot take him down nor remove due to his powers, and they value him so much they turn a blind eye from his actions.
- He stooped so low... And here I thought he's still a decent person.
- And apparently he always mocks you in front of his subordinates. Mocking the "dead" is another low for him if I'm going to be honest.
- Do what he wants with my name, but it's unforgivable that the one who stole my powers uses it for criminal acts.
- Speaking about Vibarian, I've always wondered what power he stole from you. All I know was that they stole your 4 most broken abilities.
- It was a simple body strengthening spell. But that spell gives you 40% boosts on every physical aspect of the human body.
- 40%? And not only that, every physical aspect of the human body!? Also how did you even know it was 40%?
- It's kind of hard to explain but what I did was I put a small amount of mana onto a Manalith prototype and did the same with another Manalith but with a body strengthening spell. There, I was able to measure how much enhancement it gives me.
- That is actually a smart way to measure that but, it is a body strengthening spell... How come it enhances mana too?
- It's the mana output, not the mana itself. Plus I get that you are confused as to why it even enhances mana output but Mana itself is what enhances me. So with that, the mana output should be different too.
- Interesting... I wonder if Vibarian knows this too?
- It will be his biggest advantage and largest fatal disadvantage at the same time. I hope he does not know this.
- Before my fight with that asshole, can you make three different mech-limbs for my right arm and both of my legs? I want it to be...
- ... Do you really expect me to pull ALL of these in 3 days and 2 nights!??
- I believe in you.

- God... give me all the materials right away. If something is missing just get them after your match. Here's the list. Also buy me some coffee and food later on, I will be needing them for my sleepless nights...
- I knew I could count on you.

<SWITCHES TO VIBARIAN'S POV>

- Master Vibarian, I have come to remind you that Helheim Ascendancy Tournament will start 2 days from now.
- I know, I know. It does not matter who's going to be my opponent. I'm going to win anyways. But you did not come here just to tell me that, right?
- Yes... You can at least expect a slightly enjoyable fight this season.
- Who they might be?
- Rook Halberd, a spear user migrated decades ago from Varkrath and is also known from his skillful and unpredictable way of using his weapon. Kenshi Akuto from Kaizenra. A swordsman who helped fought Varkrath army in the east-
- OHH KENSHI AKUTO! Oh wow I did not expect him to join this tournament! I've actually seen how he fights and I can tell he is a worthy opponent.
- Yes master.
- Very well- SHUT YOUR DAMN CRYING YOU CUNT! hardly kicked a woman demi-human You fucking peace of shit! Your whole race damn stinks you know!?
- Where'd you get that master?
- From my inventory room. The fucking rascal stole all the valuables and no guards even sensed it.
- That explains their torture yesterday...
- Well, in any case. I like the news you've relayed to me. Come to think of it, there's still a request that I need to clear right?

The bracket for the tournament has emerged on a big floating rectangle powered by Mana Crystal Stone.

- And just as we hoped for...
- He joined.
- To protect his winning streak for this popular tournament and finally seal off his legacy, his techniques, and his name for eternity.
- But it will end in this season, and he will never be able to achieve that ever again...
- I WILL-

—TOURNAMENT STARTS—

(Game will show a quick gameplay cutscene between Vibarian vs Kenshi Akuto)

- COMMENTATOR: What a wonderful performance between Vibarian and Kenshi Akuto! Even though the match was practically settled right from the start, Kenshi Akuto still showed us something that none of us really ever expected, even Vibarian himself! Who would have thought that someone from outside the Hero Party can rival our... STRONGEST BRUISER!
- We will have a 10 minutes short break before the next match start. So calm and prepare yourself for another magnificent battle that (Players Name) and Tavian Cross will bring upon us!

Moved to Licht and Merlin Ironwright POV'S

- Reminiscing?
- ... What?
- You look like you've remembered something in the past, and by the look of your face it looks pleasing... and perhaps—
- Only if that moment would last forever. Let's go, I'll prepare for my match.
- Even after being betrayed, you still hold your memories with them when everything's alright... You're still empathetic, Licht.
- COMMENTATOR: WELCOME BACK LADIES AND GENTLEMEN! This afternoon, the sun will set on top of this stadium, and grace the match between our two contestants.
- Introducing... (PLAYER'S NAME)!

The unknown variable. The rising contender. The one whose story is still being written—right here, right now. But standing in his path... Tavian Cross.

A fighter built on balance—no wasted motion, no clear weakness. Every strike was calculated. Every movement is precise. His reaction speed alone makes him a nightmare to land a hit on... some say nearly seventy percent of all attacks never even connect. To fight him... is to fight uncertainty itself.

This is more than a battle. It's a test. Can Licht overcome a man who turns offense into failure?

Sun God Apollo... witness the battle between these mortals. Let the battle... BEGIN!

—LICHT (PLAYER'S NAME) VS TAVIAN CROSS END DIALOGUE—

- To think that there are people like you who are this strong. Vibarian is something else but you, you are different kind of strong. More like you are out here to get something back...
- ...
- Not even a conversation huh. Whatever, it was my loss. You earned it.
- You are strong too, for a teenager like you. I'd love to fight you in future. Keep growing, kid.
- ... You saying that making me remember Hero Licht hahaha. He once said something like that.

Licht is stunned to speak and is slightly visibly blushing.

- He once saved my hometown. Now that town is thriving and even became one of the main cities of Alfheim. I wonder where he is now... I want to see him, and fight him.
- But you just fought him.
- COMMENTATOR: WHAT A WONDERFUL PERFORMANCE BETWEEN THESE TWO WARRIORS. Tavian showed relentless skillful attacks and swift dodging but our dark horse, (Player's name) was able to see a fatal flaw and grabbed the opportunity immediately! Let's give it up for our two warriors!

Crowds are loudly cheering and clapping for both contestants.

- UP NEXT! Our match 3 will be something we also need to bat an eye on... AFTER OUR SHORT BREAK!
- That (player name) guy. He may be disabled but he's got some real skills.
- It is not something master cannot crush. But I do admit that his fighting style is somewhat similar to Hero Licht.
- You think so too?
- Yes.
- ... Interesting.
- Don't lose now, (Player's Name).
- COMMENTATOR: WELCOME BACK AGAIN LADIES AND GENTLEMEN! Apollo blessed us with arguably the most breathtaking battle as of now. And mind you everyone, we just finished match two for today! Oh lord oh lord, when someone aims at the top, destiny will always make you suffer first before possibly attaining the crown! With our participants, Vibarian's goal to fetch the first 5 win streak might be hard.

- NOW MOVING ON TO THE NEEEEEXT MATCH! Between Rook Halberd and EIDOOONN KREISS!

Switches to Rook Halberd's POV

- It's only a matter of time, brother... and my wife. I will save you... Please, be safe.

—THE PLAYER WILL NOW COMMENCE ONTO MATERIAL GATHERING—

Will list the items soon

- AND LYRA VOSS TOOK THE WIN FROM KAELE DRAVEN! And here we thought we had already seen the best fight for this year's tournament, but no!
- Lyra Voss huh. I've heard of that name before...
- Anyway, I have gathered every material for my next mechanical limbs. I should warm-up for tomorrow's match.

—LOCK THE PLAYER TO LEVEL REQUIREMENT—

- GOOD DAY, EACH AND EVERY SPECTATORS OUT HERE IN THIS ARENA!!!

We're here for Day 2, where the intensity rises and the competition gets even tougher. Yesterday gave us an incredible start—big plays, surprising upsets-

- Heroes are really a tough nut to crack, huh. smirks
- ... Lyra...

Match... starts... NOW!

—LICHT VS LYRA VOSS TOURNAMENT—

Lyra Voss will let the MC win

Lyra Voss was an assassin sent from Lysandria 2 decades ago. Her target was some noble who has criminal records but is always getting away with the charges due to his influence. Slavery, kidnapping, selling organs, and many more gory stuff. Her hometown, Lyra Voss, was targeted by the said noble. Our mission that time was to protect that same noble. We never knew his acts behind that time. All we had to do was just guard this noble. This was our first mission that we failed.

- TELEPATH: So you are here to collect something that belongs to you.
- I can never get used to these telepathic communications...
- That sucks... That's my field afterall.
- You're not much of a wandering person. Here to do a "business"?
- Well yeah, assasination 'n all.
- You are too casual about your mission... Don't you even care if I tried to stop you?
- I know you wouldn't. Hence I told you.
- Who are you here for?
- You will know... I'll give you this win. Just do what you need to do. Oh and also, make my job easier for me, will you?
- ... I really wish I have learned to learn mind barrier magic...

Our first mission that we failed, and is popular even now. I met Lyra Voss the day before the assassination started. Our client was a boss of a popular crime syndicate, and none of us Hero Party Members know who and what that boss up to. She showed me multiple pieces of evidence leading to not one, not two, not even three crime acts, but 25 or more. She knew she couldn't beat our whole team, let alone me only. It wasn't a tough decision so we let her be and left some vague information of their whereabouts. But leaving people to die just because you think it's righteous to do so is...

She became my friend and no one knew even now. We've been working together for so long, must be the reason why she can recognize my mana flow... No, that's impossible. Even Vibarian who was the closest to me always did not recognize me. She helped the hero party numerous times without those bastards knowing. I should not doubt her... she's not someone who would betray her friend easily.

- COMMENTATOR: Un... UNBELIEVABLE! The match was looking like it was Lyra Voss's round but no, it was (PLAYER'S NAME)! What an exquisite upset from (Player's Name). Who would have known that-
- He's staring at me.
- Indeed.
- He's quite something else if I had to say something. I'll go prepare before my match starts.
- 30 minutes before the match, master.

- I'll go to my chamber first.
- I've got some bitch down there, looking like the same race as Rook Halberd if I had to say so myself. Gonna savour her first for my motivation.
- Just you wait. I'm going to take everything from you... VIBARIAN.
- Just you wait. I'm going to kill you with my own hands... VIBARIAN.

....

“Brother... no matter what you do... do not waste your life just for me.”
 “Just take me and don't involve my husband, you beast!”

Those were the last sentences that I have heard from my brother and my wife.
 Vibarian... I'll make you regret everything.

- Match starts in 3...
- So that's why you look familiar.
- 2...
- You bastard!
- 1...
- YOU'RE HER HUSBAND! HAHAAHAHAHAHA
- BATTLE COMMENCE!
- I'M GOING TO KILL YOU IF IT'S THE LAST THING I HAVE TO DO!!
- VIBARIAN WON BY A THREAD! Who would have thought that there are someone who can rival our hero, our strongest bruiser! A man who fought the King of Helheim Satan, with his party member, has managed to find an opponent who can match his strength! Rook Halberd, a man with great strengths has revealed-
- Of course Vibarian is going to win, who else? But him “winning by a thread” with my technique too... I think? I'm outside the arena helping with Merlin so I wouldn't know but I doubt it was a close match.
- That's more like it. I can finally take what's mine tomorrow.
- I did not think I'd be able to do all of these in just 2 days and 1 night...
- I really thank you for your service, Merlin.
- Just snatch that win and get your revenge. That's all I wanted for your pay.
- I'll make it worth your effort. Watch closely, Merlin.

- Just so you know, Rook. She was certainly up to my taste, your woman I mean.
- COMMENTATOR: "People of the coliseum—lend me your ears, your cheers, and your silence!"
- "Behold Vibarian. Not a mere fighter. A hero. He has walked through flames that melt steel. He has lifted the fallen on his back while arrows blackened the sky. He has stared into the eyes of creatures born from mankind's oldest nightmares and made them flee. When villages had no hope left, they whispered his name. When armies broke, he did not. That man, that legend, stands before you today."

Crowd erupts

- "And yet... someone dares to step onto this sacred ground against him."
"That someone is [Player Name]. No titles. No songs sung in taverns. Just two matches behind him—both won by the thinnest of margins. A hair's breadth from defeat. A single breath from the end. And yet... here he stands. STANDS IN FRONT OF THE REIGNING CHAMPION."

Crowd's cheer roars for the black horse

- Woah... you're gonna pierce me with those stares of yours. As if I've done horrible things to you.
- You know, I thought I was imagining it, but you "heroes" sure talk too much.
- Out for blood? I like that, don't change that attitude till the very end. grins
- You might not be able to savor that, though. You criminal.
- "The hero against the survivor. Glory against grit. Let the match... begin."

—VIBARIAN VS. LICHT (PLAYER NAME) PHASE 2 DIALOGUE—

- This fighting style, these moves, these sheer intensity stare... It can't be... It can't be Licht...
- Reminiscing something about me, thief?
- You... YOU FUCKER! EVEN AFTER STEALING YOUR POWERFUL POWERS, YOU STILL WITHSTAND THAT EXPLOSION!?
- And you bitches also. Cockroaches are too sturdy for y'all's own good.
- Perfect timing, I'm trying to find a way to vent out every annoyance I've had for the past weeks to you. I'LL GIVE YOU A TASTE OF THE POWER YOU ONCE OWNED!

—VIBARIAN VS. LICHT (PLAYER NAME) PHASE 2 BEGINS AND ENDS—

- Sucks that I cannot kill you here. Don't worry, I'll finish you off somewhere.
- L-Licht... faints
- COMMENTATOR: In... INCREDIBLE! Our champion who we thought will snatch his 5th win and seal his name as the person who break the record of longest winstreak... HAS BEEN DEFEATED!

CROWD ERUPTS

- sob You did it...
- We're just starting.
- Today's my chance... My wife... I'll rescue and avenge you...
- Thanks for making the job easy for me. I'll retrieve what you've lost, my only friend.

Later that night.

- Tonight's the night, huh.
- You look worried, don't worry. I won't be alone.
- Huh? O-oh... do I really look like that? Wait, no. More importantly, what do you mean by you're not going alone? Just so you know, I ain't-
- Lyra Voss. She's an assassin, and my friend.

- Lyra... oh, the female at the tournament! So that's why your match with her seems off.
- I know you're not going with me, but please be careful. Make sure to pack your items tonight so we're ready to leave anytime.
- Alright. Be safe and snatch what was yours to begin with.

...

- I met an information broker and paid for Vibarian's place whereabouts. I knew he would build his area deep in the mountains, but I didn't think it'd be this place... This place where we first fought the Great Demon Sage.
- Tight security of course. Glad that information broker had something more useful than just location. The map is detailed enough that I could plan where I would sneak.

- ?... is that Rook or something? What's he doing here?... Oh, makes sense. Now's the one and only chance to strike him dead.
- Someone's on-
- Seems like we had the same information and map, huh? That info broker finna feast tonight.
- It's just you.
- Haha, got startled? Knew you're now rusty.
- Shut up.
- Was planning to fetch you your lost powers for you 'cuz you made my job easier but I guess I won't need to worry about that.
- Well thank you for that, but more importantly. What should we do with that guy?
- Oh.. Rook? Well, it won't hurt to infiltrate with many people but popo's finna hear us.
- Oh well, it's fine to accompany him. Let's go.

And so, we approached Rook Halberd quietly and we teamed up. From then on, we gave each other our DNA to Lyra Voss so we could communicate while we're far from each other. We split up and scanned the whole area where the bastard is.

- Heh, the bastard's lying on the third floor. Since we're communicating in our mind, I can scatter my aura to my location. Just follow your instincts then you'd be here where I am.
- I was thinking of finding my wife's whereabouts first but I guess it'd be faster if we "ask" the Hero himself.
- Yeah, it's better for us to stick together because I am going to use teleport magic to transport us and the "Hero" somewhere.
- Then that means we can go back to his fortress right after, right?
- Yeah.

...

- You... WHO ARE-

Teleports

- Teleportation magic? Are these assassins?
- Right time to assassinate me, I guess? Don't think you fuckers can kill me easi-
- Oh, we can. In fact, We'll let you savor our hatred for you.
- Heh, I guess I don't even need to lay my hands to kill you.
- You'll do us a favor if you let us do the job.

- Rook, Licht, and Lyra... HAHAAHAHAHA. YOU REALLY THINK EVEN AT THIS CONDITION I CAN'T FI-
- Rook thrusts his weapon to Vibarian and sent him flying.
- WHERE'S MY WIFE!?
- He's not holding back, that's for sure.
- It's better.
- Look at the moon and feel the breeze, Vibarian. For this is the last time you will ever live without getting hurt.

ACT 2 MAIN QUEST

- Master Carlossus, we've been waiting for you. I will lead you to where the heroes shall have their meeting.
- Are Ambrosia and Theonnix here already?
- Yes.
- Great. I'm glad I don't have to waste my time waiting for those slugs.
- Look at yourself first before you call us that, you Muscle Freak.
- Ugh, you two, calm yourselves. I did not heed all of your presence just for you two to nag at each other.
- Tch.
- Let's start now then.
- More importantly, fetch me some water first. Let me rest for a second.

...

- ...Alright, let's start.
- I'm sure you guys already know why I have summoned you here.
- That war maniac got his karma.
- But how can he be defeated, though?

- I'm sure you guys heard the news too...
- Yes I have to ask that. Vibarian is a man who stand blow-to-blow with demon lord even without your buff and Licht's help. Moreover, he has THE RING!
- I find it strange too. It is either it was set up or...
- Licht is alive.
- How could he be alive after that explosion, though?
- C'mon, we only stole his overpowered powers. It doesn't change the fact that he's a monster himself.
- The guy who brought him down at Finals is [Player's Name]. A man who has prosthetic limbs. You guys know what I am getting at, by now.
- There is only one conclusion...
- Against Vibarian who had his physical abilities boosted by the ring? Was Licht actually that powerful?
- He already knows our weaknesses. Try to work-out your brain more than your muscle.
- What did you say, nerd?

Ambrosia sighs heavily.

- ...
- ...

Theonnix coughs

- We should formulate a plan.
- Plan? This is so stupid. I'm out.
- Hey, you should know that Licht got his power back now. A plan is natural to-
- Shut the fuck up. I'll let him wreck havoc in my kingdom, or whatever. I'll fight that monster head on. I alone is enough.
- Can you please tune down your Pride and Arrogance?
- Ambrosia. I've been waiting to smack his ass down.
- ... Fine, whatever.
- I'm leaving now.
- He's no good. What should we do?
- We should find Licht, or now known as [Player's Name] in secrecy and assassinate him... is what I want to say but right now, no one would be able to take him down aside from us.
- We can neutralize him after finding him. I'm sure you still have that ancient device that can let us teleport right? We can order our troops behind the shadow while waiting.
- I like your plan but how can we neutralize him?
- smirks. About that...

- So you're saying, I got this licensed ID just for me to redo it again?
- Yes. I am. Sooner or later, the heroes will be on a move finding your name all around the country. Considering the news arrived 1 day after the tournament due to newspaper's production pacing, by tomorrow we can expect some inspection at every city entrance.
- But I have to fight him again...
- You really don't want to deal with Oser huh? Well, we have managed to pack you up with a fake ID and Lord Vahn, the Vice President of Oser's guild made the ID so it wouldn't look suspicious.
- I see. Then in that case we have to wait before they deliver it to us.
- Yes. But from now on, you will now call yourself as...

–Player must enter another nickname. Attempt to use the previous nickname shall be blocked–

- Alright. I just thought that we can spread my previous nickname somewhere to fool the heroes where I am. What do you think about that?
- Sounds great. If that's the case then...

The black smoke of mana that emitted after we killed Vibarian has left me an impression that he was possessed, and whoever that is, they have full control over him. I have a bad feeling about it. That aside, Merlin and her henchmen forged my nickname's data to redirect the heroes search to another area while I am going in the opposite direction. We planned that my previous nickname is heading towards Carlossus domain but in reality, we are heading to...

- The Blessed Land. Ambrosia's domain. We're finally here.
- From our intel, the guards are tighter than ever. We expected this to happen but to think their guarding surveillance area ranges from their neighbourhood cities...
- Their processing hurts my brain too. It's too slow.
- I KNOW RIGHT? The receptionists from-

And thus, her half an hour of complaints starts now.

bumps

- Tch, hey watch where you're goin-
- Huh??

A girl sobbing while running

- Hey.

- I know. She came from the church.

Crowd murmurs

- I heard from the fish vendor these past days there are some wailing inside the church accompanied by blue lightnings...
- Do you think they are experimenting on people?
- Come to think of it, there was a line of prisoners who are believed to be on death-sentence arrived at the church last week.
- Then in that case, she might be one of them?
- I kind of remember her face...
- Wailings and Blue lightnings...
- Electrifying?
- Must be.
- We have to be cautious. I have a bad feeling about this.
- Yeah. For now let's go to the location we should go to.
- Hmmmmm??
- OOOHH MERLIN!
- I thought you'd forget me, Perl.
- HAHAAAAHA HOW COULD I FORGET THAT BIG GLASSES OF YOURS!
- What a lively woman.
- So? This has to be that person, right?
- Yes. Can we talk somewhere private?
- Come with me.

...

- Underground basement, huh.
- Hehehe
- What's so funny?
- Or not...
- Everytime I come here, I feel like I have died and flown to heaven.
- This is... brehtaking.
- Welcome to my humble abode. My Eden.
- We're on a different dimension. This organization of Merlins is dangerous to say the least.
- You've gathered interesting people, Merlin.
- I know, right?
- Sorry for not introducing myself earlier. My name is Perl Langworth. I am the Acting Grandmaster of Merlin's Hero Fanclub.
- flustered Hey! Calling it a fanclub is just...

- Underestimating? I know I know... it's more of a cult, if anything else.
- I'll blow that new tool I saw lying on the desk...
- NO PLEASE NOT THAT ONE!
- Nice to meet you. I am...
- It's fine.
- Alright. I am Licht. Come to think of it, I never knew the name of this organization of yours, Merlin.
- Well it's because you never asked. More like you are too fixated on beating up those who betrayed you that you never mind the name of our organization.
- It's called Radiant Order. As you already know, Merlin founded this organization because you saved her life, and it is true for most of the members. The rest are saved by Radiants. Why I joined is because I met Merlin way before this organization was built and I was saved by her inventions.
- I see. "Saved by her inventions"... meaning, is it something Merlin controls or is automated?
- Yep! I have this Mechanical Golem that I invented and some flying weapons also. But the reason why I never mentioned or gave something like that to you is because I don't want my organization to be exposed by these assassinations. I and most of the members owe you, but I'm afraid I am not letting my child get harmed.
- I understand, do not worry.
- That is why I and the highest order members I have are helping you.
- I thought I could never fully trust anyone, but I did not notice. I am already not doubting her anymore. I appreciate every help you give to me.
- Let us start this strategy meeting, shall we?

The player will be transported to the Church and will be unavailable to go somewhere until this Act finishes. The Player will fight first before the dialogue below.

- First, I am going to use my magic to transport you inside the Church. Specifically, the second floor of the Church is called Scriptorium. This is an Archive room, similar to a library. I will open the gate at 10PM because I do not think you won't have enough time to scan the whole Church even after me infiltrating it to gather as much information as I can. You can expect there will be few people inside Scriptorium, but not much to cause a ruckus suddenly.
- How long you gathered information at the Church? This is detailed as it can get.
- YOU CATCHED UP TO IT HUH? ACTUALLY I HAVE BEEN INFILTRATING THIS CHURCH EVER SINCE I RECEIVED THE NEWS THAT LICHT WAS IN DANGER AND WANTED REVENGE! IT WASN'T EASY TO INFILTRATE THIS I TELL YOU!! FIRST I-
- He's just like Merlin...
- To sum up what he just yapped, he had to research the barrier around the Church so he can safely infiltrate without anyone, even the Saintess detecting it. It took 2 years to do that. And another 2 years to learn almost everything in this Church.

- I see... I gotta say, I am more than impressed with the helping hand I am getting. I am indebted to all of you.
- If you want to repay me, do so by completing this mission successfully. You only have one night. This is the perfect chance to do this mission of yours. There will be no next time.
- There will be no next time, huh. Suits me well. I want to end this as fast as possible. 5 Priests... I'll use this magic tool that you modified in my mech-arm, Merlin.

Player will be given an additional skill. Lullaby Touch.

Lullaby Touch (DEBUFF SKILL) = Enemies will be put to sleep for 1 turn.

Cooldown = 3 turns.

NOTE: DO NOT INCLUDE IN-GAME. This skill can be purified or removed by purification spells from enemies.

- The layout of the 2nd floor is as follows. First, you will arrive at Scriptorium, this is the middle room of the 2nd floor. Chapter Room is a meeting hall, that is the nearest room to the stairs. Reliquary is an inventory room. It holds a bunch of relics and mass equipment. I've investigated the Reliquary room so you don't have to. You can gather up highly potent healing potions there.
- I suggest you go to the first floor first. No, you have to go there. There is an underground floor beneath this Church. You will have to fetch an item there, you will need it for an incoming battle between you and the Saintess.

—Battle Commence—

- This must be the Apse, a sacred area behind the altar and at the altar is where the masses held. That room is called Nave.
- After going to Apse, you have to look for a key to open up the underground floor. The key is being held at the most extravagant furniture you will ever see. It is a cabinet but I do not have to explain what it looks like. Trust me, you will recognize it right away.
- Could have given me a detailed explanation on what it looks like... Whatever. They are helping me without expecting anything from me. I should be more grateful.
- This part of room is... how do I put it? Storage for cabinets? Alright. Extravagant looking cabinet... I'll find it soon enough.

Players will have to choose. Each answer has different responses.

Cabinet A (Oak Wood Cabinet)

- No matter how you look at it, it is definitely not extravagant.

Cabinet B (walnut with dove inlay)

- Looking a bit nice over here, but this is not the one, I presume. Next.

Cabinet C (White cabinet with flowers as its decorations)

- Not flamboyant enough.

Cabinet D (Golden Cabinet with jewelries intact and emerald handles.)

- Perl is right... I can recognize whatever she means right away. I'll have to open this.

Underground Key Obtained.

- Now, I have to go to Sacristy.

—Battle Commence—

- The underground floor is located at Sacristy. From there, you will already notice a statue of the saint. It is movable, but only when the saint is there. But there is a way to open this. From then on, it will be my and Merlin's job to move the statue.
- I'll have to call for them.

- It's our turn now, eh?
- This will take quite a while. I want you to strengthen up the magic tool I am about to use.
- A sound-proof barrier, huh.
- I assume I'll have to put my mana directly in the tool?
- Yep!

3 minutes have passed

- You are ready to go now, Licht. Remember the plan.
- NAIL THE MISSION!

—Battle Commence—

- The saintess room can only be opened with her and her trusted subordinates. One of them has a daughter that was locked up due to the father's blunder. Instead of executing the whole family, they abducted his daughter. As for why is he still a trusted subordinate, he has a slave oath. It is a curse and can only be removed once certain conditions met or when the master dies. The condition to remove it is beyond me, but rescuing the daughter will be your bargaining chip. At a certain point, the slave can disobey the master, but only if they find the loophole of-course.
- And that girl was the one who escaped the church just this morning. She was apprehended right away. The church has high-end detection barrier. Yet she was able to escape without anyone noticing...

- You are Jenna, right?
- ...
- Judging by your outfit, you are not a guard here. What do you want from me?
- I can help you escape forever.
- ... huh?
- But for one condition.
- What is it?
- Accompany me at the top floor of this church.
- !!?? Are you nuts? That floor is-
- I know. You and your old man is there too. I can help you get out of this place if everything went according to plan.
- ... How would I know you're not lying?
- I am sorry but you have to believe me.
- ...
- Do you still want to be experimented on? You've escaped but not long after you're already captured. Even if you are able to escape again by yourself, it is only a matter of time before they catch you. And after that, there will be no guarantee what they will do to you.
- ... I am still risking so much here. At best you guys might be just using me to complete whatever you want to complete here. Considering that I was able to escape without them noticing, you'd want me to clear the path to escape.
- I do need your help.
- Tch, not even trying to hide it. I'll at least need to know what your mission is.
- I am here to kill the Saintess.
- !!??
- You... you are beyond insane.
- That I heard many times.
- ... The reason why the church is experimenting on people, specifically prisoners that are on death-sentence, was because they wanted to see for themselves if they can harness the same blessing as the same Saintess. And if it is successful, that means they would be as blessed as the Saintess and the Hero Licht. That idea alone is outrageous, I mean being blessed means being chosen by the gods. That's what I thought before, until that day came.
- 10th consecutive experimentation for Ms. Jenna. I am quite surprised that you're still holding on till this day.
- ... Just do what you want to do to me.
- My my, are you perhaps in your rebellious phase?
- Gods will never bat an eye on you, losers.
- This girl... begin the experiment!
- Dad... how long do I have to endure this??
- I... feel like sleeping...
- ...
- Huh..?
- Where am I??

- Jenna, my child... I am sorry... I failed you...
- ... Who are you..?
- This @$#!^@# will always be watching you... Just call for me.
- ...What is... happe...ning.
- After waking up, I noticed that my wounds were somewhat healed. I am thankful of course, but that would mean that their experimentation actually succeeded.
- No. Such blasphemous ways to connect with Gods will never grant them what they wanted.
- Then, how in the world could I have witnessed it?
- We have no time. Will you join, or no?
- ... My- my father! Ensure his safety. I won't be coming, otherwise.
- Already part of my plan.
- From underground to 4th floor... I have completed my mission here. I should ask if I can Perl can open the gate to 4th floor right away-
- Heretic. By the name of Saintess Ambrosia. I, Aaron Paxli will slay you right here at this very moment!
- Integrity Knight!? Why would an Integrity Knight be here!

—Battle Commence—

- Stop! He's being controlled! Don't kill him!
- What?
- Let's lock him in your cell.
- Goodness gracious, he's heavy...
- Now we have to move our asses to go to the 4th floor. I really wanted to use Perl's gate to teleport back to 4th floor but...
- I knew you'd ask that. I can never.
- But why you can't?
- It's simple. I can only cast this gate opening three times every 24hrs because it uses a lot of mana. Even if I down mana potions, the intensity of performing this spell is enough to cause a complication to my brain.
- Sucks that I cannot use her gate again.

There will be a set of enemies in every room. So every time that player moves from room to room, he will have to fight every time.

Refer to ☰ Lichtfall - SE2 Project Storyline to know which room has and does not have enemies

- Tell me. Why do you want to assassinate the Saintess?
- Personal reasons.
- I am risking my life here. I at least have a right to know what kind of client I have, right?

- ... Long story short. She and her friends ruin my life. And lots of people too.
- Haha, so much for being a "Hero".
- smirks You can say that again.
- Come to think of it, I still don't know your name.
- [Player's Name]
- Hehe, nice to meet you. [Player's Name].

Next dialogue will be when they reach Floor 4.

- We're at Floor 4 now.
- That big gate. Must be where the Saintess is, right?
- Yeah. I'll use my skill to make the other soldier standby fall asleep, aside from your father. After that, you go and convince your father.
- But he has the slave oath. What if simply opening the gate could kill him?
- I have countermeasures.
- What is it?
- Your connection to the higher realm.
- ... Come again?
- The time you had that dream.
- Alright alright, I get it but how? How can I even manage to free my father from Saintess shackles?
- Just call for them.
- ... Ngh... Alright! You go proceed now!
- Lullaby Touch!
- Whaa... What's happening!
- DAD!
- Jenna!? What are you doing here!? Also you're cover with wounds! sob
- DAD! Please we have to work together! This is our only chance to escape from the Saintess!
- Wha- what do you mean?
- You have to open this gate for this mister to enter!
- But I can't! I can't disobey Saintesses order! Also just what is happeni-
- Waste your time and guards will get to us.
- A-alright! I'll call to her now!
- @$#!^@#... please, free my father from the Slave Oath Curse!
- Jenna, my child... It shall be done.
- I THANK YOU, @$#!^@#!!
- I didn't think it would work... Purification from the heavens. Just what I thought. She is indeed blessed. I was even prepared to smack this huge gate.
- Dad! Are you fine now?
- I... I don't feel the restraints anymore!
- Great! Now-
- Mister... Will this save my daughter from that evil wench's grasp?

- Only if you open this door right now.
- I owe you everything... please...
- Gate screeching as it opens
- Save my daughter from her misery...
- Consider it done.

—Battle Commence—
Two Integrity Knights will appear.

- My divination never lies... I knew you were still alive. Licht.
- I came here to fetch what was stolen from me. Heretic Bitch.
- That foul mouth of yours must have been enhanced right after you escaped, huh? Either way, I am still glad to see you again. Afterall, I was never satisfied from experimenting with you...
- You've tortured countless lives while I am gone... and you call yourself a hero!?
- My, my... let us not dwell onto the past, shall we?
- DO YOU EVEN KNOW HOW MANY PEOPLE HAVE SUFFERED BECAUSE OF YOUR TYRANNY AND THE OTHER DEMONS DRESSED AT THE TITLE CALLED HEROES!?
- IF ANYTHING ELSE, THEY SHOULD BE GLAD THEY ARE OF USE TO US! THE IDIOTS WHO DID NOTHING BUT TO HINDER US HEROES TO KILL SATAN! THE PEOPLE WHO ARE PRECIOUS TO ME ARE-
- MOTHERFUCKER YOU ARE JUST TRYING TO JUSTIFY YOUR CRIMINAL DEEDS! YOU ARE NOTHING SHORT OF A PSYCHOPATH WITH A MIX OF A MONSTER!! EVEN DEMONS HAVE GREATER REASONING THAN YOUR FISH-SIZED BRAIN!!
- WHAT THE FUCK DID YOU SAY??
- THOSE PEOPLE WHO ARE PRECIOUS TO YOU, I WANNA SEE THEIR REACTION WHILE WATCHING YOU DO ALL THOSE HORRIBLE ACTS OF YOURS!
- YOU... I SWEAR I WILL TEAR YOUR BODY APART, GRIND IT, AND EAT IT TO MY GUINEA PIGS!! NOW I WANNA SEE WHAT WILL HAPPEN IF THEY EAT THE GLORIOUS LOSER OF ALL TIME!

—BOSS BATTLE: PHASE 1 BEGINS—

Below is a dialogue for Phase 2

- I give you an inch and you take a mile... You really think this is everything I've got just because I am only the healer of our party?
- Something is not right.
- I have to give it to you, Ambrosia. You are an unusual Priest role. But really, all you have up your sleeves is just the ring, isn't it?
- You'll witness it soon enough...
- Aaaahh, Licht. I pity you.

- The black smoke of mana that Vibarian released the moment we killed him... I knew something was wrong after we finished killing Satan. I could not explain the feeling before, but now I can. We were never able to finish him off, and my guts told me that one day... something bad will happen.
- You are going to die by the hands of the people... YOU ONCE CARED ABOUT!
HAHAHAHAHA!!
- And that already happened 38 years ago. Maybe even longer than that.
- Sa- SAAAATAAAAAAAN!!

—BOSS BATTLE: PHASE 2 BEGINS—

Dialogue appears after Phase 2 ends.

- Li... cht...
- ...Sia
- Thank... you...
- sobbing
- For... saving cough
- Once... a... again...
- You were too bright for this world...
- Hahahaha... where did that come from? It's not like you to complement us like that.
- I just felt like saying it.
- Really? Have the wind of heavens finally blown on you?
- Oh, shut up.
- I just felt like... I'd regret it if I didn't tell you that.
- Return to the Goddess and live a happy life, Sia.
- Licht...
- Watch me from above... I will avenge you...
- The- cough* cough... then take this ring...*
- There are magic tools that are set to explode at any moment! [Player's Name]!
- Her body is disintegrating. This mana swelling from her. It is the same as when we killed Satan.
- Goodbye... Li...

sob

- Just wait for me Satan...
- bombs sparking loudly
- I WILL CHOP YOUR LIMBS ONE BY ONE AND PULVERIZE YOU ONCE AGAIN!!
- whole Church explodes

ACT 2 MAIN QUEST ENDS

ACT 3 STARTS

- So she died.
- She did not even stand a single chance to defeat the Hero.
- I never expected anything from her to begin with. Being in a party is one thing, but her fighting alone... She's as good as A-rank adventurer.
- You act like A-rank adventurer is a high-rank.
- A-rankers compared to us is nothing but a mere insect. They never had a slightest chance to defeat us. Not even allowed to hope for the best.
- Whatever. We should send a letter to Carlossus now.
- That won't be necessary. I will go there tomorrow morning.
- I managed to strike a contract with this mage named Theonnix in order not to disappear right away. I never expected a human like Licht would be powerful enough to beat me in minutes. Too powerful, even. These Gods always do as they please...
- Satan.
- What?
- As thing stands now, do we have a chance of defeating Licht?
- For someone who craves for power and even go to the lengths of controlling others who have unimaginable amount of will, you're too worried.
- Just answer my question.
- You do. Licht uses mechanical limbs now. His durability reduced down to ashes.
- Mechanical limbs... that would mean he is using too much mana than he wanted even while doing daily tasks.
- I still did not expect that roach would be up here still crawling and kicking...
- I'd be disappointed if he died that easily.
- I guess you're right. Afterall... the gods loves him.

Move to Licht's POV

- What in the game concept is that? After defeating the boss
